The Harley-Davidson

Evolution The

Japanese had more than quality. Their arsenal included

acceleration and

good braking and handling. They could motorcycle in a mere eighteen months. The

Furthermore, these were more functional.

Well, of course they did because USA

Davidson's cost more. Insulting if one thinks about it. It is not that the Evolution was that good relative to their competitors because in my opinion it was not.

However, the Evolution was stellar relative to what went before. I was a loyal Shovelhead rider,

You might meet the nicest people on a Honda but Harley riders are all about cool. They adapt a pseudo-outlaw lifestyle that emulates freedom and individualism. They spend much of their time adopting one charity or another to prove they really manufacturing and marketing, the darling of capitalism at its finest. Think about it!

How could a rusty old manufacturer whose time had drifted by reach such pinnacles of success? Well, H-D had a little help along the way with two main sociological factors: 1. The post World War II baby boom, the aging

Davidson was granted two decades, in which to plan a lasting and to be the motorcycle as the Factory hoped, mainstream Harley riders did not take the bait en masse. After all they had their psychological needs. These attempts did not prevent dark clouds from appearing on the horizon: 1. Inexorably, the post World War II baby boom's bulge has grown older, losing

Who is to take over this downsizing

accustomed? 2. In my humble opinion, the masters of marketing
did not fill the coming void of consumers. I continue to ride a

Sure I will but I was
