Cases and Materials on Consumer Law (5th Ed.) retains its comprehensive coverage and has been completely updated to reflect new developments in the dynamic field of consumer law, including: Internet marketing, ad substantiation, celebrity and other testimonials, and new developments in online consumer contracts Consumer credit regulation, including new Supreme Court cases dealing with credit reporting and debt collection, as well as the latest developments with the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau Consumer privacy, including the new California Consumer Privacy Act, the Internet of Things, biometrics, online marketing, cybersecurity and new developments concerning the Telephone Consumer Protection Act Developing and emerging payment systems - e.g., credit, debit, and prepaid cards, as well as mobile payments, digital wallets, and cryptocurrency Remedies - latest U.S. Supreme Court and regulatory developments on consumer arbitration and class actions Predatory lending ("capstone" chapter), the legal fallout from the subprime mortgage foreclosure crisis and beyond Student loan disclosures, collections and servicing; and deceptive school admissions marketing to prospective students This text contains a balance of cases, problems that reflect modern situations, and notes with discussion questions and references to the latest consumer protection scholarship. A new statutory supplement, entitled Selected Consumer Statutes 2019, is available also.

The Third Edition has been completely updated to include current and emerging issues in Consumer Law. The text covers a range of topics, including advertising and marketing, consumer credit regulation, consumer privacy, payment systems, warranty law, debt collection, remedies and predatory lending (a "capstone" chapter). This text contains a balance of cases, problems (updated to reflect modern situations) and notes (discussion questions and references to the latest consumer protection scholarship), allowing the professor the maximum flexibility in choice of topics, and pedagogical methods. A complete teacher's manual and a new statutory supplement are also available.

Materials cover the regulation of voluntary disclosure and compulsory disclosure of information. Also provides insight to abuses at the formation of the contract. Contains material on ensuring access to the market and abuses during performance. Reviews summary claims and defenses followed by abusive collection practices and foreclosing on security. Includes information about the creditor going to court. Most of the cases have been replaced and notes rewritten. The overall organization of the first edition has been maintained, with its four-part division into Regulation of Information, Regulation of Conduct, Regulation of Prices, and Enforcement of all of the above.

Modern Consumer Law is a lively, concise, problem-focused text on contemporary consumer law. It is the only text on the market conceptualized after Dodd-Frank and its creation of the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau. The book takes a functional approach to consumer law, looking at types of transactions such as mortgages as well as kinds of laws such as disclosure rules. It examines core theoretical questions in an accessible way, revealing consumer law as a series of statutes built on the common law foundations of contract and tort. Organized into 28 class-sized assignments, the book is easy to adapt to a teacher's preferences in terms of focus and class credits. The problems provide students with the opportunity to apply statutes to realistic situations and ask them to consider the perspectives of consumers, businesses, and lawmakers. Katherine Porter is a national expert in consumer law and a co-author of Wolter Kluwer's The Law of Debtors and Creditors.

Consumer Finance: Markets and Regulation is the first law school text to focus on consumer financial services markets and their regulation. Structured around clear expository text and realistic problem sets, the book provides comprehensive coverage of the regulation of consumer credit, payments, and financial data markets by federal, state, and private law, including detailed coverage of the authority of the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB), a powerful new federal regulatory agency. The book also acquaints students with the full range of consumer financial products, how they operate, the risks and policy issues they raise, and their regulation. In so doing, the book provides an applied look at how regulatory agencies work, offering students a practical look at how statutes and regulations interact and how regulatory agencies enforce them. Professors and students will benefit from: Detailed coverage of the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB), a new federal regulatory agency with broad authority over consumer credit, payment, deposit, and financial data markets Comprehensive treatment of consumer credit regulation, including mortgages, credit cards, auto loans, student loans, and small dollar loans, as well as credit disclosures, usury, and fair lending regulation State-of-the-art coverage of consumer payment systems (credit cards, debit cards, ACH) and mobile wallets Coverage of topics not found elsewhere in law school curriculum, including anti-money laundering regulations, behavioral economics, fair lending laws, and consumer financial data privacy and data security Free online statutory supplement Teaching materials include: Thirty-seven problem sets, featuring problem sets based on real world situations that confront lawyers for consumers, financial services businesses, and regulatory agencies Actual transactional documents, such as arbitration agreements, deposit agreements, a payday loan agreement, and a uniform mortgage note and security instrument A range of administrative agency materials (complaints, consent orders, speeches, guidance, supervisory highlights, studies), as well as traditional case materials with extensive expository text A detailed teacher's manual keyed to problem sets

"A casebook that takes students through the main issues of consumer law: deceptive practices, product quality, and consumer credit. It covers the Federal Interstate Land Sales Full Disclosure Act (regulating sale of vacation home land -- not mentioned in any other book on this topic), and includes "Quotes for the Attorney's Arsenal" (statements from famous cases that eloquently encapsulate specific points)..."
